

Saved AB Tests

The A/B tests page allows you to conveniently work on your saved A/B tests that have not yet been performed. This means that you can continue to work where you previously left off.

For information on A/B testing and on how to create a new A/B test, view this page.

For completed A/B tests, go to Statistics > Email > Single message and view how each email performed and which email was chosen as the best performing. For more information on the Statistics section, view this page.
